

Langham Court Theatre
Paid Artist Policy
As adopted March 26, 2013

With Langham Court Theatre operating as a non-profit amateur theatre, the use of paid artists on stage must be limited. The use of paid performers, whether they are associated with Canadian Actors' Equity, ACTRA, or under any other contract, can cost us our exemption from having to charge HST/GST. The tax exemption only applies if at least 90% of the performers are not paid.

The 90% rule applies to performers only. Casting of all such personnel that require payment must receive prior Board approval. If approval is not granted the director will be required to recast the role(s).

Note that the 90% rule does not include production staff such as directors, choreographers, stage managers, etc.
