A CHORUS OF DISAPPROVAL

A COMEDY BY ALAN AYCKBOURN

DIRECTED BY WENDY MERK

WHO'S SLEEPIN' WITH WHO?

SUBMITTED BY WENDY MERK

Many years ago, as a member of the cast of a non-Langham production, I and my cast-mates nervously awaited the late-arriving director for our first rehearsal. Finally, the director staggered in, rather drunk, and blearily bellowed at us, "All right, who's sleepin' with who?" To this day I'm not sure if that question was referring to us as characters or to us in our real lives.

Anyway, A Chorus of Disapproval is a play that begs to know the answer to that same question: "Who's sleeping with who?" It applies to the married couples, the single and married people having affairs, to the unhealthy relationships which end badly, and to the shady business relationships which lead to who knows where? You'll have to see the play to find out more. You will enjoy the process of discovery as masks are removed in this play within a play. It's a brilliantly funny script! See you at the theatre!

THE PANEL @LANGHAM – WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3, 6 P.M.

SUBMITTED BY DAVID MACPHERSON

Scripts for a Steamy Summer

Looking for some summer reading, during this "Panel @langham" local theatre artist and professionals will share ideas around sexy/steamy plays. Each panelist will present and defend a favourite script that is full of lust, romance and maybe love.

Join us Wednesday, June 13 from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. in Langham Court Theatre's Lounge prior to the performance of A Chorus of Disapproval by Alan Ayckbourn.

ART SHOW IN THE LOUNGE

SUBMITTED BY JEANNIE REYNOLDS

The work of John Mason and Richard Stille will be on display in the Theatre Lounge during the run of A Chorus of Disapproval.

The pieces are available for viewing and purchase pre-show, at intermission or post-show during the show run and during Box Office hours.

John Mason

John's artistic practice explores figurative painting through using varying levels of visual information to convey emotion, setting, and mood. His work examines how colour, gesture, and form can combine to add specific character to the figures, and how the background and negative space can support, interrupt, or change the reading of the figures. Outside of painting, John can be found performing with Langham Court Theatre, VOS, and Raino Dance, as well as writing for victoriapinkpages.ca.

Richard Stille

Richard has been involved with Langham Court Theatre for the past 22 years as a director, lighting designer, stage designer, mediocre actor and board member. At this time last year, Richard directed Proof as the final show of the 2016-2017 season. Other Langham credits for directing include Dancing at Lughnasa, You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown, Moon Over Buffalo and Tartuffe.

Richard photographed with film in the U.S. through the 1980s, but took a hiatus when he returned to pursue theatre directing. For the last five years, he has stepped up his practice with digital photography, learning new camera techniques and a totally new approach to post processing. Armed with more flexibility, he has been applying the same focus used in his theatre practice, his writing, and his previous clinical psychology practice, exploring images in ways that encourage the viewer to employ a new perspective in how they interact with the world.

The display is hopefully logically separated into differing parts of the world, differing display mediums and differing points of perspective. Enjoy!

GREAT JUNE WORKSHOP OPPORTUNITIES AT LANGHAM

SUBMITTED BY KEITH DIGBY

ACTING PROCESS: TAKING IT FROM PAGE TO STAGE

Nationally acclaimed director/teacher Kathryn Shaw, Artistic Director of Langara College's Studio 58, will present two acting workshops perfect for those wishing to hone their skills and improve their chances when auditioning.

Modern Drama

Saturday June 9, 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Using scenes from A Lie of the Mind by Sam Shepard, and Problem Child, by George F. Walker, participants will explore ways to create a character and make it live. Of special interest to those who want to go more confidently into auditions and those who, once auditioned, wish to bring offers to the table, not wait to be told what to do.

Fee: $20

Maximum Participants: 30

Style Theatre

Sunday June 10, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Using scenes from an early 20th Century classic comedies, George Bernard Shaw's Candida and Oscar Wilde's The Importance of Being Earnest, participants will explore that era's comedic style and how to mine the text and play those well-loved comedic moments. Of especial interest to those who are not fully comfortable even to audition for period pieces.

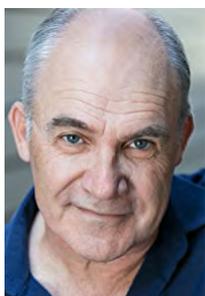

Maximum Participants: 30

Fee: $20

About the Instructor.

Under Kathryn's direction, Studio 58 has become recognized internationally as one of Canada's premiere theatre training programs. Kathryn trained as an actor, receiving an MFA from Columbia University. She continued her studies in Physical Theatre in Paris, in the Lecoq tradition, with Philippe Gaulier and Monika Pagneaux. She has worked as a director and teacher across Canada and occasionally is seen on the stage or in film, most recently in Flea, as Madame Renard in a co-production between the Electric Company and Studio 58. She is the recipient of many awards including the Canadian Actors' Equity Association's lifetime achievement award.

ACCENT/DIALECT: GETTING YOUR MOUTH ROUND IT

Workshops with nationally recognized accent and dialect coach David LeReaney

Sunday June 17
10:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Standard American, with occasional visits South and East. This workshop is of special interest to anyone auditioning for U.S. movies in the burgeoning "Hollywood North" production scene.

Fee: $20

Maximum number: 35

Sunday June 17, 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Received English, with occasional side trips North and East (end). Take the fear out of learning "that accent" and improve your chances of being cast in shows from "that country".

Fee: $20

Maximum number: 35

About the Instructor.

17/18 SEASON WRAP UP PARTY AND VOLUNTEER APPRECIATION

We are but a reflection of all the wonderful people that volunteer with us, so come to our 89th Season Wrap Up Party on Saturday, July 7, starting at 6 p.m., and be celebrated. What an incredibly successful and critically acclaimed season we have had and we couldn't have done it without you.

If you did not receive an email invitation and have volunteered at Langham Court Theatre during the 2017/2018 season, please email Michelle Buck at gm@langhamtheatre.ca and an invitation will be forwarded to you.

The evening will include food, a cash bar, reflecting back over the year, music, cake, friends, draws and door prizes.

Please note that there will be no newsletter for July. We will be back in August with our new season and more Langham news.

NOTICE TO MEMBERSHIP OF SUMMER GENERAL MEETING

The Langham Court Theatre Summer General Meeting will be held on Sunday, June 24, 2018, beginning at 4 p.m. and followed by a barbecue.

You get a chance to find out what's happening around the theatre, to talk with the Board and Production Co-Chairs about what's happening at Langham, enjoy an evening in the sun eating, drinking, relaxing and catching up on the latest Langham Court Theatre news.

Please come, we need your voice and your vote on the bylaw updates! Bring something to barbecue and an appy, salad, or dessert to share.

THE PLAYWRIGHT INITIATIVE.

SUBMITTED BY KEITH DIGBY

It all begins with a writer and a story, and this season we celebrate that fact in three distinct ways.

Playwright in Residence Program

Langham is pleased to announce its annual Playwright in Residence Program. Each season, one local playwright will come on board with two major tasks to complete: write a play and produce up to four 'Cabaret' evenings which will include readings of scenes from works in progress by new and emerging Victoria playwrights.

Jason Vikse will be the inaugural Playwright in Residence. Watch this space and the Langham Facebook page for information about how to apply to be our second P.I.R.

Jason Vikse is a Canadian author and playwright. He published his first book in May 2012 and has since published six more, including comedies, a short story collection, and a fantasy series, some of which have peaked in the Top Ten lists on Amazon.com. He has also written a number of plays, one of which premiered in Zürich in 2016. When he isn't writing, he directs, acts, and designs for the theatre. Jason has directed or performed in twenty-five productions in three countries over the past dozen years, including directing the recent production of The Clean House at Langham.

Playwrights' Workshop and Mentorship

Playwright/director Janet Munsil, whose play That Elusive Spark is part of our 90th season, will lead a weekend workshop in playwriting in the late fall. Janet will also lead a Writer's Unit of four local new and emerging playwrights working on new projects. For information about the date of this workshop and how you can apply to be one of those four writers, watch this space and the Langham Facebook page.

The International Playwriting Competition

Sponsored by critic Edwin Wong, Langham is hosting an international English-speaking playwriting competition. This competition challenges playwrights world-wide to write a modern tragedy. Edwin believes the writing of tragedy is a dying art, and he is on a mission to revive it. The entrance fee is modest, but the rewards, financial and other, are not. To learn more about Edwin, his vision of this genre and about how the competition works, go to www.risktheatre.com

MIKADO IN THE FALL

When considering The Mikado for this year's production, the Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Society's Board felt it was essential to present it in a culturally sensitive way while remaining true to Gilbert and Sullivan's comedy and social comment.

Director Heather-Elayne Day brought to the Board an exciting vision for The Mikado, inspired by a production of the New York Gilbert and Sullivan Players.

After consulting with Asian-American art leaders to build an inclusive cast and creative team, NYGASP created a prologue that sets the scene in the context of Gilbert and Sullivan's Victorian London, all while upholding The Mikado's characters, storytelling, themes and satire of human nature. In the prologue real-life people in Gilbert and Sullivan's world - the actors of the D'Oyly Carte company and D'Oyly Carte himself - interact with the writing duo as they are planning their next show. These friends and colleagues come to life in Gilbert's imagination as he dreams them into the characters of his next great production, The Mikado.

The Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Society will be the first company to licence this new prologue for our production.

Show times are November 2, 3, 4 at the Dave Dunnet Theatre in Oak Bay and November 9, 10, 11 at the Charlie White Theatre in Sidney. Evening and matinees available on both weekends.

For more information, visit the Victoria G&S website: gilbertandsullivanvictoria.ca

VICTORIA DAY PARADE REPORT

SUBMITTED BY MICHELLE BUCK

A huge thank you to everyone involved in the Victoria Day Parade on May 21. What a group effort it was. This year we added a float into the mix, which was great fun and we won second prize! We formed a partnership with Castle Building Centres (thank you Vicki Hagel) and they supplied the truck. Jordan Hagel was our fearless driver, giving us so much support driving back and forth over the weekend as the float was assembled in the parking lot.

Thanks to the crew that built/designed our Victoria Day float: Chris Clarke, David Burbank, John C. Smith, Gordon Alexander, Alf Small, Charlie Encell, Julius Maslovat, Mike Kuss and Toshik Bukowiecki. Thanks to those in the parade, both on the float and walking: Colleen Maguire, Peter Gatt, Lorene Cammiade, Beverly van Druten-Blais, Gayle Hozack, Elaine Kilpatrick, Sadie Fox, Katya Delancey, Juliana Monk (and friend), Daphney Massey and Lisa Simpson. And thank you to those at Centennial Square with our Langham photo booth: Sara Ezzat, Vinnie Chadwick, Jean de Cartier, John Lydon (set up), Gloria Snider, Kevin Stinson and Michelle Buck. Check out our Facebook page \(@langhamtheatre\) to see lots of photos of people enjoying our booth.
