The Making of Present Laughter

Submitted by Holly McGimpsey
 Producer

Excitement is mounting as the talented cast of Present Laughter is ready to take the stage. Rehearsals are going very well and have been great fun with lots of laughter and hijinx as Noel Coward would expect. Special thanks to Alf Small and Alan Penty for making a trip to Cobble Hill to collect the beautiful furniture that will grace our amazing art deco set. The traditional Langham Meet and Greet was held on May 28. We look forward to more sold out houses for the last production of the season. Don't be disappointed, get your tickets now! June 26 to July 14.

Art in the Lounge for Present Laughter

Johanne Hémond

is originally from Montréal but has been a Victoria resident for over twenty years. She work as a Recreation Therapist with Island Health's Wellness Monitoring Program and is an artist in her free time. Johanne brings compassion and empathy to her clinical practice, and ongoing support around her clients' mental health. Johanne also brings the arts into her practice as a way of coping with emotional and physical pain. In 2013 she initiated and led the Aberdeen Art program which ran until 2016.

Johanne loves to discover new ways of creating. She recently started to preserve her garden flowers to make resin art. She dabbled with encaustic art and has been practicing photography for over 30 years, also developing her own photos in the pre-digital age. She finds inspiration in the environment that surrounds her:

"My artwork is an outward projection of my internal landscapes. It reflects the range of emotional textures that I bring to my world. My work starts with a base that builds into lines and thick layers. Drips, splatters and wiped surfaces are all part of the process."

Gerri Byrne

Art For Your Heart

"I do not follow a path. Just my heart"

Gerri Byrne is a Victoria based artist whose work is inspired by nature's dramatic and colourful moments. A simple slice of everyday!

Gerri's paintings are admired and easily recognized by her use of light, vibrant colour and contrast. Because colour and light have such a powerful impact on the body, soul, and mind, we are naturally drawn to colour often triggering an emotional state that is stimulating and energizing.

As a former proprietor of a gallery in the foothills of Alberta, Gerri came to recognize that those whose artwork found lovely homes to reside in was often because the art piece had connected emotionally to the buyer.

"A work of art that did not begin in emotion is not art"
Paul Cezanne

Message from the President

How wonderful to see another successful show with full houses at Langham!

Congratulations to the cast and crew of Five Women Wearing the Same Dress for a wonderful, fun, yet thought provoking run. I heard a review from an acquaintance who said that although they were quite perturbed by the language and content of the play, after some time and further thought, they realized that the story told was that of the experiences, characteristics and behaviours of many modern women. That the five women actually represented the range of real people and the things that occur in their lives, language and all. I love that it made them think and consider how we live in the world and who we are. That is the true gift of theatre, to open our eyes and minds to different experiences, even if it is while wearing a very sparkly bridesmaid gown, in an incredibly fuschia room.

Lounge upgrade – I have been asked about the lounge upgrade and wanted to let you know that there is a dedicated team working diligently behind the scenes who, along with help from our trusty carpenters and amazing partners Matrix Marble and others, hope to have the lounge finished and named in Vinnie Chadwick's honour by the opening night of the new season! It will be a fabulous start to the season!

And to all you talented scene painters, keep your eyes open for an invitation to arrive in your inbox asking you to bring your skills to repainting the lounge this August. You know who you are 😊

Cheers,

Caroline

Honey Done List

Submitted by Michael Kuss

May was a great month for projects around Langham and I would like to thank all those who volunteered. Alf Small, Colin Houghton and Bruce Dzioba installed new furniture storage shelving. Charley Encell and David Burbank fulfilled a long standing need when each of them built shelf units in the Costume Construction Room. Last, but not least, Colin Houghton and Gordon Alexander implemented a solution to the air conditioning need in the tech booth.

We wish Deanna all the best in this next chapter. We look forward to seeing more of her work on the big screen! Thank you for all the time and talent you gave to Langham, you will be missed.

We want to give a warm Langham welcome to Misty Buxton, the new Costume Manager! ## What's Up With the Finance Committee?

Submitted by Mike Chadwick, Gloria Di Iola, and Gordon Alexander

Your Finance Committee is making rapid progress to resolve outstanding grants dating from 2021. Our commitment is to allocate the $104,000 already received to necessary maintenance and upgrades. What follows is a brief and partial summary.

Listen up: Upgrades to Langham's sound system this summer will enhance sound quality, provide interconnected paging options, and improve the hearing loop in the theatre itself as well as the lounge. A large TV screen installed in the lounge will provide a viewing experience more similar to that in the theatre itself. The funds for this upgrade come from repurposing a grant to enhance accessibility received in 2021. Jason King is leading the project with help from others including Warren Busby.

Lighten up: A review of the building's exterior lighting will address overdue maintenance and improve coverage, and thus visibility and safety, in particular, lighting of the stairs leading to the box office, the passage leading to the lounge, and the parking lot. Funds for the project come from the Gaming Commission's 2021 grant of $40,000 to be matched by our $40,000. In addition, the City of Victoria has agreed to install a new streetlight immediately opposite the theatre on Langham Court at no cost to us.

Brighten up: The building is to be painted this summer, again with matched Gaming Commission funds. Its new colours will be blue, burgundy, and white to accentuate the heritage elements of the building on the west side facing Langham Court. Toshik Bukowiecki is leading this endeavour which will span all of August.

Heads up: Serious tree work on the three large firs to the north of the parking lot will respond to safety concerns. A qualified arborist will survey the trees' condition and may recommend pruning to reduce wind load or removal if necessary. Some firewood may become available with proceeds to be retained by Langham to offset the cost of the project.
